"WANTED: 50,000 Christmas parcels mailed before December 19 to insure a Merry Christmas to all.' This little advertisement is inserted in a special Christmas bulletin now being circulated to Washington homes by the city postoffice.

The office asks Washingtonians to mail their parcels so that they can be shipped to distribution points not later than Wednesday, December 21, in order that they can be deliv ered by Saturday, December 24.
"Better a week early than a day late," is the motto adopted for the

The malling schedule for parc given by the office follows: For Cal-ifornia and the far west, December 13; for the Southwest, December 14; for Illinois, Iowa, and other states the middle west, December southern states, December 16; or Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky, ecember 17; for New England ates, December 19; for New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey Dember 19; for Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, and North Carolina, December 20; and for the District of Columbia, December 21. Christmas cards may be mailed Parcels must not exceed 84 inches in length and girth combined, the weight limit begin 70 pounds to the first three zones, up to 300 miles, and 50 pounds to all other zones.

The rate on printed books is 1 cent for each 2 ounces for parcels weighing 8 ounces or less and zone rates on heavier parcels.

Send all valuable small articles by registered first class mail, the office advises, since parcel post matter can not be registered.

In mailing parcels "if you care rap, wrap with care," and place a card with your name and address inside the parcel for identification in case the wrapper is torn off. Wherever possible make one parcel do the work of two. It is permissi ble to write on the cover of a parcel "Do not open until Christmas" and to inclose a card with the inscrip-tion "Merry Christmas," or "words of similar import."

New Device Seen Great Aid to Identifying Numbers at

Ever since the automobile industry been established it has been essential that some sign or number should be shown on the cars to designate to whom they belong or by whom they are being controlled, so they would aid the traffic departments and officials on the roads in apviolated any of the rulings or traffic laws. This designation was done by ring to the owners of cars a license plate which is in common use today throughout the United States.

The license plate when placed in osition on the rear of a car generally has a lamp placed so as to reflect on the numbers to show the designated colors of the various States. This lamp's reflection is supposed to show the numbers of the license at night, but only a part of the plate and numbers are illuminated. In many cases the entire license number cannot be seen. Besides, the plates get dirty, and even in the day the numbers are difficult to see, and at night they are of little use. This license has been very unsatisfactory to the traffic departments and the officials out on the read and on this account the new automobile illuminated license sign invented by William R. Garner, an inventor of note is so constructed with the combination rear lamp and license-sign as to show all the numbers on the license plate in the night time and the red bulls-eye is plainly seen at an agle of 45 degrees. The lamp that furnishes the light for the bulls-eye is also used in furnishing bulls-eye is also used in furnishing the light for the license numbers on the sign plate. In the cabinet there is a reflector which throws the light through the numbers on the license plate from end to end and thereby furnishing all the brilliancy to the numbers so they can be seen at least 200 feet or more away

WILL YOU BE A GOOD FELLOW?

Government Employes Who Get Paid This Week Are Expected to Enlist in the Army

To be perfectly frank, the accomplishments of the Good fellow movement during the past week were not such as to prompt anyone to leap out of bed in the middle of the night to give three cheers.

True, a considerable number of men and women signed up as Good Fellows and took needy families threatened with a cheerless Christmas under their wing, but, at the same time, the list of such families continued to lengthen. Sev eral score of families were temporarily adopted and guaranteed a Merry Christmas, but there are many more scores and there must be a corresponding number of Good Fellows.
